From: _____

Notice to agent is Notice to Principal and Notice to Principal is Notice to Agent

I, _____, one of the People (as seen in the California State Constitution Declaration of Rights) am giving you this notice that you and your agents may provide due care and carefully act to cease and desist from all interference with the rights of the People;

The California Constitution Preamble states:

"We the People of the State of California, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, in order to secure and perpetuate its blessings, do establish this Constitution."

Please take notice that, from the inception of the State of California, Almighty God was acknowledged.

Please take further note that the People’s rights to practice their religion, in its various forms, was established from that point to the present.

California State Constitution Declaration of Rights Article I Section I

All people are by nature free and independent and have inalienable rights. Among these are enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety, happiness, and privacy,...

Please note that in relation to the rights of one of the People of the State of California, or any other of the 50 states, inalienable means rights which are not capable of being surrendered or transferred without the consent of the one possessing such rights.

Please further note that, within the California State Constitution, there are no provisions for removal of this very first noted basic right of “We, the People.”

California State Constitution Declaration of Rights Article I Section IV

Free exercise and enjoyment of religion without discrimination or preference are guaranteed.

Please take further note that the People’s rights to practice their religion, in its various forms, was established from that point to the present.

California State Constitution Declaration of Rights Article I Section XVII

Cruel or unusual punishment may not be inflicted or excessive fines imposed.

Please note that the requirement of the Constitution is the avoidance of excessive imposition of results based on perceptions of arbitrary definitions of misconduct. No misconduct has or will occur; however, the state has attempted to define misconduct as non-compliance with a forced mandate that has no standing in law.

California State Constitution Declaration of Rights Article I Section II

(a) Every person may freely speak, write and publish his or her sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of this right. A law may not restrain or abridge liberty of speech or press.

Please note that the Constitution delineates certain rights, speech and press, but implies others, as individual rights maintained within the United States Constitution Bill of Rights Amendment I.

United State Constitution Amendment I

Text of Amendment I: Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Please note that the right to exercise of religion is not limited to a certain time or place; but, is not only allowed, but protected, under all situations and circumstances and is not to be limited by any agency, trust indentured, elected official, or any other influence outside that of the individual.

California State Constitution Declaration of Rights Article I Section VIII

A person may not be disqualified from entering or pursuing a business, profession, vocation, or employment because of sex, race, creed, color, or national or ethnic origin.

Please note that Common Law, upon which the United States Constitution and the California Constitution are based, was and by the most recent preapproval of such, is, the law of the land and does in no way allow for or make excuse for any action that is repugnant to either constitution.

Please further note that the present “mandates” disallowing the People’s inalienable and indefeasible rights to choose religious conscience over unlawful mandates, based on strong religious convictions, is without merit and forms an unlawful precedent for further overreach of governmental agencies in the future. It is an attempt to disfranchise and diminish the status of “We, the People” to accomplish an arbitrary end of questionable merit.

“We, the People,” acting on our Constitutional authority as the progeny of the creators and sustainers of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, do hereby demand immediate relief from all such mandates and restrictions upon our liberty interests and rights as “We, the People.” No agency, elected trustee, or entity has or will have authority to direct the private decisions of the People.

My desire is to settle this matter in a calm and harmonious atmosphere of mutual respect. However, no further infringement on the People’s rights will be tolerated! Please see to it that this matter is resolved properly and expeditiously. I come to you peaceably trusting your actions will also reflect good intentions and honorable behavior.
